

Dear Colleagues,

Please consider submitting items of interest to the News section to be included in the May issue of History of Psychology. The News section publishes information relevant to both national and international history of psychology communities, including but not limited to:

- * Recent or upcoming publications (books, translations, etc)
- * Upcoming conferences, meetings, and events
- * Calls for submissions
- * Recaps of events and conferences
- * History of psychology community member news (awards, grants, honors, accomplishments, and obituaries)
- * New archives collections, events, or materials that have been made available to researchers.
- * Online resources relevant to the study or teaching of the history of psychology

If submitting a conference or meeting announcement, please include information on a few key speakers or events and the primary language of the conference.

News on non-English works and events are encouraged.

The deadline for inclusion is February 15, 2010.

Please email submission to: news.editor@historyofpsych.org

Sincerest regards,
